1. Most businesses forward calls only when nobody answers, so the app takes just the calls you'd miss.

2 In the app, find the number your calls forward to, and choose when it answers: after hours, when nobody picks up, or every call.

3 Turn on forwarding with your phone provider. Search their help pages for conditional call forwarding, or forward when busy or no answer.

4 Then call your number from another phone, let it ring, and check the app picks up. Try it during hours and after.
