1 Here's what happens when you can't pick up, from the missed call to a booked job.

2 When a call isn't answered after a few rings, it forwards to your answering app. Your number stays the same, and calls you do pick up never reach the app.

3 The app texts back within a minute, answers from your own facts and takes the job details: what's wrong, when they'd like a visit, and where.

4 You get a short summary by text and email, ready to confirm. Anything urgent reaches a person right away, and the app never takes payments or card numbers.

That's it. Three habits:

1. Your number stays the same
2. Every missed caller gets a text
3. You confirm the job
